Flexible joints with metal bellows are susceptible to flow-induced vibration.

Computational Fluid Dynamics and highly instrumented water flow testing of an SLS Ball Strut Tie Rod Assembly (BSTRA) are performed to characterize unsteady flow’s participation in closed-loop fluid structure interaction.