

NASA Scientific and Technical Information (STI)
Document Availability Authorization (DAA)

NF 1676L ID: 19703 Date Submitted: 09/09/2014 NF 1676L New/Revised: New

STI Type: Technical Presentation NF 1676L Submitter: Mclarney, Edward L

Authors, Editors, and Compilers

Order	Person Type	Name	Affiliation	Phone
1	Author	Mclarney, Edward L	NASA

Title:

Modeling and Simulation Impact on Research and Development

Originating NASA Center

Langley Research Center

Org Code: B7 WBS: 736466.07.10.01.01

Subject Category Number:

62 Computer Systems

Security Classification:

Unclassified

Availability:

Publicly Available

Does This Document Contain New Technology:

No

Does This Document Contain Any Third-Party Content:

No

Meeting Name:

IRI 2014 Member Summit

Presentation Date: 10/13/2014 - 10/16/2014 Presentation Location: Denver, CO United States

Presenter:

Mclarney, Edward

Document Submittal:

Abstract:

Given the emerging virtual / digital age, with research & development globalization, open innovation, and pervasive connectivity... how will rapid broad virtual testing affect R&D, what are the implications for virtual testing facilities, and what are technical contributors?

Author's Comments:

Blanket Authorization:

No

Approval Status:

Approver Type	Approver	Status
Branch Head	Seaton, Jeffrey M	Approved 09/11/14
Organizational Unit Manager	Seaton, Jeffrey M	Approved 09/11/14
Center Export Administrator	Tons, Marissa N	Approved 09/11/14
Publications Manager	Baize, Wanda M	Approved 09/12/14

*Approvers dependent on Branch Head selection.

NASA FORM 1676L OCT 2009
Previous editions obsolete

Prescribing Documents NPR 2200.2 and LMS-CP-5904