Two tables are published below. The first presents the numbers of stars according to the Catalog IRC, for which all or part of the identification with the Catalogs BS-HR, GC or DM is incorrect, as well as the star quantities V and the spectra, i.e., the stars actually measured are not identical to them at all. The second table presents the numbers of stars in the IRC catalog, for which the identifications with variable stars printed with them are erroneous, whereas other identifications are usually correct.
